Crime / Suspense

"Why did the victim have to die?"
We can hear the last voices of the victims in the items they leave behind.

Satoshi Itomura is an assistant police investigator who belongs to the Metropolitan Police Department's Scientific Investigation Team. Reenactments, fingerprint and voice data collections, profiling... His team collects scientific evidence and pieces together fragments of information in order to help build a story.

Itomura often does not care about the scientific approach and instead pays a great deal of attention to the things the victims always carried with them or treasured, like the toys from their childhoods. And he focuses on these things because they usually carry the victim's last message.
